INTRODUCTION

Rev. John Cuthbertson was born near Ayr, Ayrshire, Scotland, April 3, 1718. Reference to his birthday is made by him in his Diary from year to year, the first one on April 3, 1753, as follows:

"Birthday—entering me into the 35th year of life from 1718."

His parents were devout members of the persecuted Church of Scotland; his early instruction was under private tutors; his Theological studies under Rev. John McMillan, who, with Rev. Thomas Nairn, a Ruling Elder, constituted the Reformed Presbytery of Scotland, which was organized in 1743. By this Court he was licensed on May 16, 1745, and ordained at Braehead on May 18, 1747, ministering to the Covenanters in Scotland. Baptisms solemnized by him in 1747 and 1748 are recorded on page 65 of the Register of Rev. John McMillan,(*) as edited by Rev. Henry Paton, M.A., of Scotland.(†) While Moderator of this Presbytery, Doctor Cuthbertson was sent to minister to the scattered Covenanters in Ireland, but because of the earnest entreaties of the Scottish Covenanters in America for an Under Shepherd, he was sent to this country in 1751, the first Reformed Presbyterian Missionary to come to America. Of him, Dr. W. E. McCulloch says:

"Verily John Cuthbertson was one of God's noblemen, a true hero of the cross. He is representative of the heroic home missionaries of that day, expert workmen in the task of empire building, to whom our and all other churches of Christ owe a debt incalculable."

* In Doctor McMillan's Register we note the following Cuthbertsons, some of whom no doubt belong to the immediate family of Rev. John Cuthbertson:

In 1716 (page 19), the baptism of Agnes, born May 27, 1716, to John Cuthbertson in Walston.

In 1720 (page 24), the baptism of Helene, born June 4, 1720, to John Cuthbertson in Dunsyre.

In 1722 (page 26), the baptism of Margaret, March 28, 1722, to John Cuthbertson in Libberton.

In 1724 (page 32), baptized Thomas, April 25, 1724, to John Cuthbertson in Libberton.

At Braehead, December 17, 1743, Alexander Kirkland and Elizabeth Cuthbertson, both in Kilmarnock parish, were married by Rev. John McMillan.

† Index by S. Helen Fields.

From Edinburg, Scotland, Mr. Cuthbertson wrote a letter on February 22, 1745, to his sister Margaret at their home in Greenback, Bunolo. This is reproduced on pages xx and xxii. A History of the Church of Scotland was brought to America with him, and contains his signature on the first page, a facsimile of which will be found on page xxiv. This History was the work of David Calderwood at the appointment of the General Assembly, and is "The True History of the Church of Scotland From the beginning of the Reformation, unto the end of the Reign of King James VI." While on a recent trip to Waynesboro, Franklin County, the writer was shown this ancient book by Mrs. Jacob H. Stoner, in whose possession it now is. It is bound in sheepskin and is 8 by 12 inches. After this trip Mrs. Stoner was going carefully through the volume, page by page, and in it discovered the letter to his sister referred to in the beginning of this paragraph.

A Diary was kept by Doctor Cuthbertson from the date he landed in America in 1751, when thirty-three years of age, up to a short time before his death, which occurred in his seventy-third year. His first entry in the Diary is as follows:

"After being forty-six days, twenty and six-tenth hours at sea from London Derry Loch, landed safely at Newcastle August 5th, 1751, about eight in the forenoon. . . ."

The Diary of Rev. John Cuthbertson is a personal record, containing, in addition to his entries of marriages, baptisms, etc., many expressions of intimate family life, and abbreviations for his own information. From this he no doubt gathered his data for church reports. We find in it the names of the families to whom he ministered, many of them having lived in America from 1720, and earlier; it gives the names of families coming to America with and after him. From his entries, during his ministry he married approximately 600 persons and baptized more than 1800 children. Over 5,000 different families is a conservative estimate of the number mentioned by Mr. Cuthbertson. The book itself is four and one-half inches long by three and one-half inches broad, and a little over an inch thick. It is bound in soft, brown vellum. His handwriting is wonderfully clear and the book well preserved, showing disintegration only where bound to the cover. (See page xvii.)

In tracing its history, information has recently been received from Mrs. Mary D. Sinclair and her sister, Mrs. Florence Donaldson Henderson, of Steubenville, Ohio, that the Diary of Rev. John Cuthbertson passed into the hands of Mrs. Rebecca Buchanan Junkin, their Grandmother, because of her descent from representative families in his Societies. This was left, it is believed, at one of their homes, where he was thought to have died. Mrs. Junkin suffered a fractured leg in her old age, and while confined to her room made a copy of the Diary, contained in two large volumes. Thereafter, in 1896, Dr. Joseph Buchanan, a cousin of Mrs. Sinclair, thought it wise to place the Diary in the then Allegheny, Pa., Theological Seminary for safe keeping. Dr. Wm. M. Glasgow states in his Church History, published in 1888, that he had the loan of the original Diary from Mrs. Junkin. Revs. A. S. Aiken and J. N. Adair gathered vital statistics from it for their sketch of Rev. John Cuthbertson, published in 1878. Whether these gentlemen also made copies of it is not known, but it would have been difficult for them to have accomplished what they did without doing so.

Mss. copies of the original Diary of Rev. John Cuthbertson are to be found in several places: The earliest one of record is that made by Mrs. Junkin, and now in Steubenville, Ohio. One was made in 1914 by William H. McNaugher, son of the President of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary (formerly the Allegheny Theological Seminary, and now (1933) the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary). A carbon copy of this is retained in the Seminary, as is also a transcription of it by the writer. From these other copies have been made. One is in the Library of the State Historical Society at Harrisburg, Pa., and one, with complete index by the writer, in the Library of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Washington, D. C. One was presented to the Library of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa., by Mr. Albert L. Hood of that city, on September 8, 1914, apparently the original of the copy in the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary. A Mr. Nilson, deceased, of Chambersburg, Pa., had copies typed some years ago, and the one at Harrisburg is believed to be from one of his copies.

Interesting medical prescriptions were inserted by Rev. John Cuthbertson in the back of his Diary, several of which are cited here:

"The famous American Receipt for the Rheumatism.

"Take of garlic two cloves, of gum ammoniac, one drachm; blend them by bruising together. Make them into two or three bolus's with fair water and swallow one at night and the other in the morning. Drink strong sassafras tea while using these. It vanishes also contraction of the joints."

"100 pounds have been given for this."

"Take a large spoonful of flour brimstone in a gill of mountain wine the moment the fit seizeth. If this cure not, repeat, with fit."

"Worms: to kill.

"Take teaspoonful Alum, another of Link powder; grind fine, mix, divide into 3; sweeten, give every other morning. P. E."

The Scottish Covenanters were to be found in the Cumberland Valley region as early as 1720. They settled principally along the Conococheague Creek; the Octoraro; Pequea; Conestoga; Swatara and other streams flowing from the east into the Susquehanna. This valley extends in a southerly direction from Harrisburg, Pa., into Maryland and Virginia. It was the practice of the Covenanters to organize themselves, as in Scotland, into Societies or Correspondences among those living in the same general localities. These met annually or semi-annually as a Presbytery, known as "The General Meeting." Mr. Cuthbertson presided over these meetings, usually held at Middle Octoraro, from 1751 until 1774, when the Reformed Presbytery of America was organized and Revs. Matthew Linn and Alexander Dobbin took over some of his heavy responsibilities.

The principal Society of Rev. John Cuthbertson was at Middle Octoraro, Lancaster County, Pa. At this place he bought a farm from "Josias Kerr" on January 24, 1757 (p. 142), about a year after his marriage to Miss Sally Moore, one of the daughters of Walter Moore, whose home was about fifteen miles from Philadelphia, on the Pennypack Creek. This farm is located about two miles from the stone church in which he often preached. Here he maintained his home during the remainder of his life. It is now owned by Mr. Frank J. Trout, who has lived here with his family for over thirty years. The original stone house, with its twenty-two inch walls, forms the center, an addition having been added on either side. The entrance door contains the original barn-door hinges. The whole place presents a modern appearance, and is most attractive. It is not difficult, however, to picture in one's mind how it must have looked in the early days. We find here also the ancient barn of stone, and peering into its vast interior one can almost hear the voice of Mr. Cuthbertson as he talks to his favorite horses—

Rapha, Courage, Race, Bess, Kennet, Snip, Tib, etc. A picture of the home (page xvii) was taken by Rev. Wm. M. Anderson of Philadelphia, who, with Mrs. Anderson and the writer, made a trip to Middle Octoraro in June, 1930. In this home Mr. Cuthbertson's three children were reared—Sarah, John and Walter. Walter was born June 12, 1769, and died when a little over twenty years of age. He is buried in Middle Octoraro Graveyard. John, born March 21, 1764, became a physician and lived and practiced in West Middletown, Pa., until his death on September 27, 1827, in his 63rd year. Mr. Cuthbertson purchased the farm on which his son John lived, and refers to it in his Diary as his "plantation." Sarah, the only daughter, born May 21, 1762, kept house for her brother, and after the death of Mr. Cuthbertson, the mother made her home with them. Mrs. Cuthbertson, referred to in the Diary as "Sally" and "Y," died on January 10, 1807; Sarah, the daughter, on March 23, 1836, aged 73 yrs. None of Doctor Cuthbertson's children married. His son John, his daughter, and Mrs. Cuthbertson are buried in Lower Buffalo Graveyard, Independence Township, Washington County, Pa., which was erected in 1795. The writer is indebted to Rev. J. Earl Hughes of West Middletown, Pa., for locating the graves for her and taking photographs of them. These are reproduced on page xviii.

Mr. Cuthbertson travelled mostly on horseback, often walking and leading his horse; he sailed, rowed, or walked on the ice over the Susquehanna and other streams. He covered a total distance of more than 70,000 miles during his ministry. Guided apparently by his compass and blazed trees, and depending upon the instinct of his faithful beast, he struggled through the unbroken forests from one meeting place to another, and from one home to another. He encountered deep snows and raging blizzards; scorching sun and heavy rains; he was often cold, sick and hungry, as shown by frequent entries; he braved wild beasts, venomous serpents, cruel Indians; the waters were often dangerously high. Most of his studying was done on these long rides.

When Rev. John Cuthbertson came to America in 1751, he was accompanied by his sister, Janet Cuthbertson Bourns, and her husband, Archibald Bourns, of Lanark, Scotland, with their infant son John. Archibald Bourns settled soon after, near what is now Fairfield, and was then Middletown, Adams County, Pennsylvania, on a farm presented to his sister by her brother. This farm is on the now historic Gettysburg Battlefield. Archibald Bourns was the second brother of William Burness, father of Robert Burns, the beloved Poet of Scotland. Another brother, Thomas, emigrated to America from Scotland, and settled in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, in 1747. An article under the title, "A Franklin County Cousin of Robert Burns" by C. W. Craemer, Esq., of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, is included in the volume of "The Kittochtinny Historical Society," 1908–1915. This tells about John Burns, the cannon-maker, son of Archibald and Janet Cuthbertson Bourns, who was born in Scotland in 1747, and gives the names of many of the descendants of John Burns. Only a few of them will be mentioned here. One of John Burns' children, James Burns, the fifth son, married Jean Downey, a descendant of the Dinwiddie family of Scotland, which traces its ancestry back to 1296. "General" James Burns had two children, Rosanna and Jane. Rosanna married William Smith Amberson, a prominent merchant of Waynesboro, Pa. They had five children. The writer was recently at the home of Dr. James Burns Amberson, of Waynesboro, a son, now 87 years of age, and still engaged in medical practice. The only other one of these children living at this time is Mr. Presley Neville Amberson, retired. Doctor Amberson was married to Miss M. K. Good, December 1, 1873. They have six children, all living. The writer met Miss Mary E., William Smith and Jean Downey, while in Waynesboro. She also visited the original John Burns' farm at the foot of the North and South Mountains, three miles from Waynesboro, on the Little Antietam Creek, and saw the site of the original log house, and the spot on which John Burns carried on his trade of sickle-making, and where he made, what is believed to be, the first wrought-iron cannon in America. This was captured in the Battle of Brandywine and taken as a trophy to England. John Burns was in the Battle of Brandywine at the time his cannon was captured. Because of his superior skill as a smith he was sent home to repair gunlocks and make bayonets for use of the Army. He married Esther, daughter of Jeremy Morrow of Adams County, Pa., August 19, 1772 (page 80), and they had seven sons and four daughters. John and Esther Burns are buried in the old Covenanter Graveyard high on a knoll on the Willow Glen farm, where many other members of the Burns' family are resting. John was the Grandfather of one of Ohio's early Governors and one of its counties is named for him.

Samuel Rhea Burns, son of Jeremy, second child of John Burns, the cannon-maker, married Margaret Renfrew, a cousin. One child is living, Mrs. Sallie Coffman, widow of Dr. J. J. Coffman of Scotland, Pa. The writer has been in correspondence with Mrs. Coffman. She and her late husband have done much to keep the family records intact. Mrs. Coffman refers to her son, Rev. D. Rhea Coffman of Long Branch, N. J., formerly of Steubenville, Ohio.

Two other children were born to Archibald and Janet Cuthbertson Bourns in America—Janet and James. Janet became the wife of Nathaniel Mitchell of Washington County, Pa. Mr. Mitchell served throughout the Revolutionary War and was for three years with the armies of General Washington. They are direct ancestors of the writer. Their marriage is recorded by Rev. John Cuthbertson on the upper left-hand page of the open Diary, as pictured on page xvii. They had ten children: James, Margaret, Elizabeth, Francis, Mary, John, Joseph, Thomas, David and Samuel.

The burial place of Nathaniel Mitchell and Janet Burns Mitchell is in the old Covenenter Graveyard at West Alexander, Washington County, Pennsylvania. Of their descendants mention is made of only a few personally known to the writer, or with whom she has had correspondence; namely, Alfred Hatcher Mitchell, Attorney, St. Clairsville, Ohio; Alfred Hewetson Mitchell, of the "Daily News," Martins Ferry, Ohio. In Washington, D. C., Mrs. Mary Fields Craig, widow of W. Franklin Craig; her daughter, Margaret H., a school teacher; and her son, Donald Alexander Craig, Sr., an executive of the U. S. George Washington Bicentennial Commission; Washington newspaper correspondent, and charter member of the National Press Club; his young son and daughter, Donald Alexander, Jr., Radio and Dramatic Editor of the Washington "News," and Elizabeth Adams Craig; Mrs. Caroline Fields Lester, widow of Rev. Wm. H. Lester, D.D., Missionary to Chile, S. A.; and Miss Margaret B. Fields. In Steubenville, Ohio, are Miss Katharine Cunningham and Mrs. Hannah Cunningham Shark (Mrs. Ernie).

James Burns, son of Archibald and Janet Cuthbertson Burns, married Jane Gebby, eventually becoming one of Ohio's pioneers. He owned several acres of land on which Cincinnati now stands.

That the heart of Doctor Cuthbertson was with the Covenanter cause, and that he longed for its firm establishment in America, is evidenced in his letter to his sister's son, John Burns, written only a little over a year before his death in March, 1791. Copies of this letter were given different members of the family by Doctor John Francis Bourns, a son of Jeremy. He died December 21, 1899, in Norristown, Pa., aged 90 years. He is the only member of the family who continued spelling the name Bourns. A copy of this letter is published here:

"Mr. John Bourns, Antietam.

Very dear Nephew:—I have nothing new to inform you unless of ye death of Mrs. Talbot, my wife's sister, who, after five or six months' sore affliction, departed ys transitory life July 7th, was decently interred on ye 9th. Old Robert Ramsey also is deceased since. A new in-comer from Ireland was brought to & lay 10 days in my house, dyed & was buried from it. The Sovereign Lord is exercising various methods of proceedure in his adorable providence; but above all others, irreligion; practical religion almost laid aside. What need there is for each of us to press forward in our closet and family devotion. The rising generation appears to practice as if they did not believe they yr is a God, and that he concerned himself with this world—particularly with his first and noblest creature, man. Eternal things are laid aside. This world's perishing things enhance all our cares,—cheating, overreaching, defrauding & every other wickedness abounding. Our coalescence with ye Seceders, I apprehend, is almost at an end. Mr. L. can inform you hereof. Was told that ye Covenanters in ye north of Ireland, at a late meeting of yr Presb'y had appointed a minister to come over here. Should divine Providence favor this, I expect ye true Covenanting cause might again lift up ye head in ys western world. I wrote Mr. McMillan at Glasgow ye other week. I had some thoughts of coming back to see you but I fear inability. The Doctor proposeth in a few weeks coming back to see you, &c. Remember me to your spouse, children, Sam & Spouse, with other inquiring friends.

Your sincere well-wisher and friend.

Jno. Cuthbertson."

"Octoraro, Aug. 19, 1789."

Rev. John Cuthbertson died on March 10, 1791, aged 72 years, 11 mos. and 7 days. He is buried in Middle Octoraro Graveyard, attached to the stone church where he labored until March 20, 1783. (See page 134.) The Middle Octoraro Church contains an inscription cut into the stone: "Built in 1754. Rebuilt by Associate Congregation in 1849." Photographs of Mr. Cuthbertson's grave, with its cracked and crumbling slab, and the now unused church, were taken for the writer by Rev. Wm. M. Anderson in 1930, and are reproduced on page xviii. On the slab is the following inscription:

"Here lies the body of the Rev. John Cuthbertson, who, after a labour of about forty years in the ministry of the Gospel among the diffenting Covenanters in America departed this life 10th March, 1791, in the 73rd year of his age."

"Psalm 112 . . . . "The Righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

This same quotation is on the tombstone of his wife.

Inscriptions are on Mr. Cuthbertson's stone for his son, Walter, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Talbot, who are buried beside him.

The following published works have been consulted by the writer, as not only these authors but others have had access to the original Diary of Rev. John Cuthbertson and have quoted freely from it:

"A Biographical Sketch of Rev. John Cuthbertson" by Revs. A. S. Aiken and J. N. Adair, 1878.

"History of the Reformed Church in America" by Rev. Wm. M. Glasgow, 1888.

"American Church History Series," Vol. XI, by Rev. James Brown Scouler.

"United Presbyterian Church and Its Work in America" by Rev. W. E. McCulloch.

Various Histories of Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Lancaster, York and other Pennsylvania Counties, and Maryland County Histories.

To Mr. Erskine Ward of Walden, N. Y., a direct descendant of David Rainey, son of James Rainey, the writer is indebted for a review of the Orange County, N. Y., locations, and additional information in footnotes. Also for photographs of the home of James Rainey, built in 1765 (page xix), two and one-half miles east of Pine Bush, Orange County, where Mr. Ward's mother, grandmother and Great Grandfather, David Rainey, were born. In one end of the building, built for the purpose, services were held until 1793, and here Rev. John Cuthbertson organized the first Covenanter Society in New York. In 1793 the Coldenham-Covenanter Church, five miles west of Newburgh, N. Y., was built. The present building was erected in 1838.

Note: See articles by S. Helen Fields in the "National Genealogical Society Quarterly," Vol. XX, March, 1932, No. 1, and Vol. XXI. March, 1933, No. 1, for names of additional Covenanters.

"Dear Sister,

You now enjoy the blefsful Summer of Life, when all is in its prime, the Affections lively, Memory strong, Body quick & vigorous, so yt all things are now fitted for mutual afsistance in some noble undertaking, and what more honourable & gainful than ye Service of your Creator: O remember this in ye Days of your youth: No tongue, or pen can expref's the pleasure you shall enjoy in all Duties & Ordinances, private & publick, and in all you put your hand to; shall always have a Friend to cling closer than any Brother: I'm in no doubt about ye maintaining ye form & usual Courfe of Duties. But, dear Sister, I'm very much afraid you may have lost much of your former fervency & warmth of Love to Him whose blefsed Self you would once rather have enjoyed than many worlds of painted Vainities: O arife & come away! Sit not loitering, Saying he has forgotten to be gracious, he has been angry with me, & so has hid His face from me; What can I then do? What, have you not all ye blefsed offers of Christ yt any have. Cry unto God, thou art the guide of my youth, lead me therefore in thy blefsed ways & Suffer not my feet to slip from thy Testimonies: Believe it, Christ is well pleased with a returning Child; Make much use of your Bible & never take it in your hand without remembering yt it is ye Word of God, & so ufe it; pray frequently & fervently both for yourself & others; & forget not Zion, in all your Prayers let Zion have a share, So do you remember him who thus writes unto you, & desires always to prefent your Soul's cafe before ye Throne of Grace: With my hearty Respects to Father, Mother, Brethern & yourself, I in haste remain

QUOTATIONS FROM DIARY OF REV. JOHN CUTHBERTSON

QUOTATIONS FROM DIARY OF REV. JOHN CUTHBERTSON

For nearly forty years Mr. Cuthbertson ministered to the Covenanter Societies in Lancaster, Dauphin, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Adams and York Counties, Pennsylvania. His trips took him into other Pennsylvania Counties as far west as the Ohio River, and as far as the Delware River on the East. He journeyed into Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Everywhere he went, whether into homes or to regular meeting places, we find him preaching, lecturing, baptizing, marrying, rebuking, examining, etc., often all in one day.

(a) The marriage and baptism entries are placed under the locations where solemnized. Children were sometimes carried long distances to be baptized.

(b) Spaces and short lines under quotations are intended to bring out more clearly consecutive trips.

Monongahela Society

Rev. John Cuthbertson made his only recorded trip into Allegheny County and into Washington County in the fall of 1779, visiting the Society known as the Monongahela, distributed over a large area of country along the Monongahela and Youghiogheny Rivers, some twenty miles southeast of Pittsburgh, the central point of which was the Forks of the Yough. Perhaps the earliest settlement was in 1769, when James Wilson and his son Zaccheus left the Cove Mountain, east of the Alleghenies, and settled in this vicinity, moving to the Forks of the Yough the following year, accompanied by Robert McConnell. They were soon joined by the families of Robert and Matthew Jamison; Andrew McMeans; Matthew Mitchell.

Middle Octoraro Society

The principal Society of Mr. Cuthbertson was at Middle Octoraro from August, 1751 to March, 1783, when he was released by the Presbytery. There seems to have been little secession in his work in this locality, however. The church in which he preached was built in 1754, and was rebuilt by the Associate Congregation in 1849. This church went into the Union in 1858, becoming a United Presbyterian Church. The building is now abandoned, but there is hope that it may be restored. As early as 1740 a Covenanter Society formed in the vicinity of Octoraro. Mr. Cuthbertson's first sermon in America was preached here in a tent three miles from the house of Joseph Walker. After his marriage in 1756, Mr. Cuthbertson made his home on a farm about two miles from the stone church. (See pages xvii and xviii for pictures of home and church.)

*Buchanans

Information has recently been received from Miss Emma M. Campbell of La Jolla, Calif., a relative of President James Buchanan, on the Buchanans, (some of whom are mentioned by Doctor Cuthbertson) as follows:

* Gilbert Buchanan of East Nottingham, Chester County, Pa., died in 1771; his children were Walter, Sarah, Agness, Margaret and Jannet, and from Family Bible, the following:

 Walter (of Little Britain, Lancaster County, Pa.) married Jean McLaughlin. His children were Gilbert, b. Mar. 12, 1750; Janet,* b. Jan. 23, 1752; Mary, b. Oct. 14, 1754; James, b. May 23, 1761; John, b. Aug. 12, 1763; Sarah, b. Dec. 24, 1765; Margaret, b. Sept. 10, 1768; Agnes, b. Oct. 11, 1772.

 Gilbert married Sarah Walker—children, Walter, Isaac, James, Sarah, Rebecca.

* Janet married James Glenn—children, Walter, Agnes, Joseph, Jean.

The Walter Buchanan of East Pennsboro Township married Mary Roney. He died in 1788. The children were Andrew, James, William, Robert, Walter; Elizabeth, who married Walter Smith; Jannet, who married David McClelland; Mary, who married William Herron; Margaret, who married Hercules Roney, and Ann Davidson. (From one of his descendants to Miss Campbell.)

PERSONS VISITED—ADDITIONAL QUOTATIONS

The quotations given below from the Diary of Rev. John Cuthbertson are for the purpose of bringing out each name which may not have appeared in the previous citations, thus covering all names recorded in Diary. The reader should have no difficulty in placing these families where they belong by association with those heretofore given, aided by explanations in parenthesis by the writer. As previously stated, only entries are quoted bringing out the names sought. Complete copy of Fields' Index to Diary in D. A. R. Library, etc., would have to be consulted for additional information bearing on these and other names.

Adams:

James 1759 Sept. 28 "rode 8 miles by James Adams—bought Lexic., Justin and Salust at 18-9." (From Neshaminy.)

Archer:

Dr. R. and J. 1789 Sept. 13 "Sabbath—nothing—wife, Dr. R. and J. Archers, sick—Bilow F." (At home.)
